AFRICAN AMERICAN
STUDIES PROGRAM

African American Studies Adjunct Faculty Pool

Job Description: The African American Studies Program at the College of Charleston is seeking to establish a pool of applicants to fill potential part-time temporary teaching positions. Responsibilities include teaching sections of “Introduction to African American Studies” and possibly other upper division courses in African American Studies as needed. The position is non-tenure track and lecturer appointments are made on a semester by semester basis. Salary is calculated per course.

Requirements:

The preferred candidate will have a Ph.D. in African-American or Africana Studies; Ethnic or Cultural Studies with a strong emphasis in African American subject matter; or one of the traditional disciplines, (e.g. English, History, Sociology) with an expertise in African American subject matter and the ability to teach a range of African American Studies courses. Applicants with a Master’s degree or substantial years of professional experience will also be considered.

Preferences:

Applicants with training or expertise in Critical Race Theory, History, and/or Visual Arts and have earned a terminal degree are preferable.

Application:

To apply, applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabus (Intro to African American Studies), and an unofficial transcript using the online application form. Review of applications will begin April 1, 2019. For more information please contact
